Dear Friends,

We would like to thank our advertisers, especially our regulars, for their continued support - without them there wouldn't be a magazine!

Love Chester magazine is all about promoting our lovely part of the country. It's important that we use our local tradespeople and shops to keep it that way, more importantly than ever if we want to keep our high streets, villages and the city centre alive after we see the back of COVID-19. Many shops are managing click & collect, please support them!

Our advertisers are quality, local and reliable tradespeople offering great services at affordable prices. Using local businesses means they can invest in our area - keeping Cheshire such a great place to live and work!

Look out for us on the road in our Love Wirral & Chester van and maybe you might like to advertise in our magazine Love Wirral. Call us! Keep up to date with us on facebook and our facebook group, twitter or visit us at: www.love-chester.com

Best Wishes

OUR ZOO

What's happening at Chester Zoo.

Some of the world's smallest monkeys born at Chester Zoo

- Twin pygmy marmosets arrive to parents Zoe and Baldrick
- Miniature infants born measuring just two inches and weighing 10 grams
- Tiny primates spotted taking a ride on the backs of other family members
- Species is threatened in its native South America home from habitat destruction and hunting

Big news about two tiny baby monkeys! Twin pygmy marmosets hitch a ride with dad Baldrick at Chester Zoo

Some of the world's smallest species of monkey has been born at Chester Zoo.

The pair of eastern pygmy marmosets, one of the most miniature primate species on Earth, arrived to parents Zoe (3) and Baldrick (4).

The tiny twins each measure just two inches (five centimetres) in length and weigh no more than 10 grams.

Keepers say the babies are already "highly inquisitive" but are so small that it will be some time yet until their genders are known.

Holly Webb, a Primate Keeper at Chester Zoo, said:

"It's wonderful to see new additions within the marmoset family and it's almost unbelievable just how small the babies are when they are first born. They are no bigger than a ping pong ball!"

"Mum Zoe and dad Baldrick have jumped straight into parenthood. Zoe is ever so caring and, unlike other primates, dad is heavily involved in the upbringing of the youngsters. Baldrick sensed that Zoe was ready to give birth and even put on a little extra weight to give him the energy to care for the twins. He's really got stuck into the parenting - we spotted him carrying the babies around on his back when they were just one day old."

To save Chester Zoo head to: www.chesterzoo.org/saveourzoo

“New babies always strengthen family bonds and some of the younger primates in the group have also been carrying the new arrivals around. It’s great to see them learn and pick up parenting tips from Zoe and Baldrick, and that experience will be important if they one day go on to have young of their own. The fact that younger members of the family are trusted to carry around such delicate new-borns, builds a lot of trust within the group.

“The babies are already very inquisitive and aware of their surroundings. I can’t wait to see them develop their own little personalities.”

The eastern pygmy marmoset is native to the rainforests of western Brazil, south-eastern Colombia, eastern Ecuador and eastern Peru. These miniature monkeys are threatened by habitat loss and often exposed to hunting or their capture for the pet trade.

Dr Nick Davis, Deputy Curator of Mammals at the zoo, said:

“Many primate species around the world are highly threatened, often due to large-scale habitat destruction, hunting and the illegal wildlife trade. Sadly, this is very much the case for the eastern pygmy marmoset.

“Despite their tiny stature, pygmy marmosets make a lot of loud noises, especially when calling out to attract a mate or warning others of danger. Even though they are the world’s most miniature species of monkey, their whistles and squeals can be heard throughout the rainforest. Unfortunately, as their forest homes continue to disappear, this can be to their detriment, as a lack of cover leaves them even more exposed to illegal hunters and trappers. Thankfully, conservation teams are working hard to restore forest and create safe areas while new arrivals at the zoo help us to further highlight what needs to be done to prevent their extinction.”

Pygmy marmosets are social animals, have one mate for life and their tails are longer than their bodies, which helps keep them balanced as they pass from branch to branch through the forest. They grow to around eight inches long and just 130g.

The word marmoset originates from the French word “marmouset” which means shrimp and their gestation period is around four-and-a-half months. The species has specialised diet which includes insects, fruit and tree sap.

THE CLATTERBRIDGE
CANCER CHARITY

Join the celebrations and Go Green for The Clatterbridge Cancer Charity this February!

This year The Clatterbridge Cancer Charity turns 25 and they want you to join the celebrations! Don your very best green get-up and in turn help raise vital funds, to transform cancer care in our region.

The annual fundraising drive 'Let's Go Green' takes place every February and sees iconic buildings and landmarks across Merseyside and Cheshire light up green, to show their support for the Charity. With the usual fundraising activities this year being unable to go ahead due to current restrictions, never has it been more important to get creative and get involved.

Head of Charity, Katrina Bury commented: "This year the Charity turn 25 and last year we opened the doors to Liverpool's very first cancer hospital, with so much to celebrate we'd really like people to get involved this February and support our Go Green campaign.

Following a difficult year for the Charity and with most of our fundraising activities cancelled, it would be fantastic to see people supporting Go Green. Whilst conventional methods of fundraising aren't possible at this time, we have socially distanced alternatives and we hope people will be inventive and still contribute in any way they can"

To see how you can get involved, have some fun and make a huge difference for local people living with cancer, visit the Clatterbridge website and download the

SIX MONTHS IN HISTORY

This feature each month will give true interesting facts from years gone by. See what you remember that happened in your lifetime.

THIS DAY IN HISTORY FOR THE MONTH OF FEBRUARY

FEBRUARY 1

Sixteen minutes before it was scheduled to land, the Space Shuttle Columbia broke apart in flight over west Texas, killing all seven crew members. The accident may have resulted from damage caused during liftoff when a piece of insulating foam from the external fuel tank broke off, piercing a hole in the shuttle's left wing that allowed hot gases to penetrate the wing upon re-entry into the Earth's atmosphere. This was the second space shuttle lost in flight. After the disaster, Space Shuttle flight operations were suspended for more than two years. Construction of the International Space Station (ISS) was also put on hold.

FEBRUARY 4 1926

Malcolm Campbell sets a new world land speed record of 174 mph (278 kmph) at Pendine Sands in Wales in the Napier-Campbell Blue Bird. Malcolm astonishingly broke the land speed record 9 times between 1924 and 1935, setting the benchmark very high for his son Donald. He became an icon in the public eye with his daredevil image and the sleek futuristic cars, all of which he named 'Blue Bird'. He also broke the water speed record 4 times in speedboats he also called Blue Bird!

FEBRUARY 9 1964

73 million Americans tuned into the 'Ed Sullivan Show' to watch four lads from Liverpool appear for the first time. The Beatles broke viewing records with their appearance, it is still supposed to be one of the largest viewing audiences ever in America.

The boys think that one of the big things that broke them was the hairdo more than the music to start with. American fathers reportedly told their children they were wearing wigs.

A lot of fathers wanted the television turned off but a lot of mothers and children made them keep it on!

1971

JANUARY 15 1971

Tanners, bobs and half-crowns all disappeared as Britain went decimal. The massive change had taken the Decimal Currency Board five years to plan.

Thanks to a three year education campaign, including a tv drama called 'Granny Gets the Point', free ready-reckoners and rudimentary conversion calculators, fears of galloping inflation, crafty retailers rounding up prices or public rejection never came to pass and the transition was hailed a success.

FEBRUARY 6 1952 - King George VI died. His daughter Princess Elizabeth became Queen Elizabeth II, her actual coronation took place on June 2 1953.

FEBRUARY 11 1975 - The Iron Lady, Margaret Thatcher became the first woman leader of the Conservative Party. She became Prime Minister in May 1979 and held office until November 1990.

FEBRUARY 7 1812 - Novelist Charles Dickens was born in Portsmouth. He examined social inequalities through his works including; David Copperfield, Oliver Twist, and Nicholas Nickleby. In 1843, he wrote A Christmas Carol in just a few weeks, an enormously popular work even today.

FEBRUARY 27 1991 - Desert Storm, the 100 hour ground war ended as Allied troops entered Kuwait just four days after launching their offensive against Saddam Hussein's Iraqi forces.

Spoon Up Tradition

When cooler temperatures call for something to warm you up, good, old-fashioned soups and stews may be just what you need.

You can create delicious, steaming pots that taste like they're straight out of mum's kitchen with flavourful, convenient ingredients such as Pickled Beetroot and Salads to help streamline preparation. With these contemporary recipes, you're in and out of the kitchen in under an hour without any long simmering required.

In large saucepan or Dutch oven over medium heat, cook bacon 2-3 minutes, or until cooked through and crisp. Remove bacon from skillet; reserve. Drain drippings; return 1 tablespoon to pan; discard remaining drippings.

Add onion to pan. Cook about 2 minutes, until tender, stirring frequently. Add garlic; cook and stir about 30 seconds. Add red cabbage and liquid from jar, broth and chopped apple. Stir in cinnamon, allspice and cloves. Bring to boil. Reduce heat and simmer, covered, 10 minutes. Add water, 1/2 cup at a time, if soup is too thick. Add bacon to pan. Continue simmering about 3-5 minutes, until apples are tender and soup reaches desired consistency.

Spoon into bowl. Garnish with apples, yogurt and crumbled bacon, if desired.

Bacon-Apple Red Cabbage Soup

Bacon-Apple Red Cabbage Soup

Prep time: 15 mins, Cook time: 20 mins, Servings: 4

- 2 slices thick-cut bacon, chopped
- 1 medium red onion, chopped (about 1/2 cup)
- 1 clove garlic, minced
- 1 jar (16 ounces) Sweet & Sour Red Cabbage, not drained
- 2 cups low-sodium, fat-free chicken or vegetable broth
- 1 medium apple, chopped (about 1 cup), plus additional for garnish (optional)
- 1/4 teaspoon ground cinnamon (optional)
- 1/8 teaspoon ground allspice (optional)
- 1/8 teaspoon ground cloves (optional)
- plain yogurt or sour cream (optional)

Ford EcoSport 1.0L EcoBoost 125PS 6 Speed

The Ford EcoSport has been around for a while now. My friend owns one and is very happy with it. So are his wife and the whole family. Now, I'm going, to be honest, I'm not a fan of its looks. Do I think Ford could have done a better job? Yes – basically. But hey, a car is a car. Also, for most, the family car is a functional item for getting from A – B. All the same, the EcoSport is a vehicle that you can load up to the hilt with gear - and is ideal for all those camping trips away or carrying your mountain bike.

Joking aside, The Ford EcoSport is a pretty good all-round vehicle and many people will be very happy after purchase. Also, there are some pretty good deals around for the Titanium version at the moment so shop around.

On the Road

Into the corners, the chassis felt poised and tight, even when dealing with all the potholes and bumps on some of our worst roads here in Staffordshire. (take note – Staffordshire County Council, please repair the large hole at the junction just at the end of my road – it's only been there since September 2020)

Plus when the tarmac gets twisty, the EcoSport's chassis firms up to give you maximum grip in and out of every corner. The steering also feels light, direct and is perfectly balanced with plenty of feedback on what the road beneath you is doing. Also, doing 70mph on the motorway - its all silent and feels quiet and relaxed. Ford has put in a lot of effort into making the cabin as quiet as it can be, and it shows.

Power and Efficiency

The EcoSport I had on test was powered by a 1.0-litre petrol engine that has a 0-62 time of around 11.0 seconds and a top speed of 111mph. Fuel consumption is also good, giving a combined figure of around 47 mpg. Being an EcoBoost engine, it has lots of get up and go.

So, firstly, how well does it get a move on? Well, basically, pretty good if I'm being honest and the engine is quite refined thanks to clever EcoBoost technology. Also, its torque band is not bad 170Nm (200Nm with overboost) You also get a wonderful 6-speed gearbox that's 'smooth' and slick. You are never going to break The World Speed Record or take on anyone from the lights because the point of the EcoSport is to be functional and fun. This is something it has by the bucket load. I like the EcoSport because its practical for a family and its fun to drive. It also has bags of torque and plenty of space on the inside.

Interior & Technology

First off, in Titanium trim - the EcoSport is not lacking in technology or comfort. For a start, the seats are 'well lush' and the interior space is good for a large family. There is also plenty of space in the rear for adults and even people over 6ft can slip in easily.

On the inside; there's also plenty of standard equipment, such as; 17" 10-spoke premium Shadow Silver machined alloy wheels, Automatic headlights, Power-foldable door mirrors with puddle lights, Silver-finish roof rails, Rain-sensing wipers, Partial Sensico seat trim, Centre console with armrest and openable stowage, Cruise control with Adjustable Speed Limiter, Ford SYNC 3 Navigation with 8" Touchscreen, DAB Radio, Emergency Assistance, Apple CarPlay & Android Auto, USB connectivity, 7-speakers and FordPass Connect (Embedded Modem) 4.2" colour cluster display, Auto-dimming rear-view mirror, Rear View Camera with rear parking distance sensors, Electrically-operated front and rear windows with global opening/closing, Ambient lighting, Front door threshold plates with EcoSport logo and Electronic Automatic Temperature Control (EATC).

Space inside the boot is also very good - easily managing to fit in all the family luggage. Also, if you are looking to own the EcoSport to move stuff around - then it's pretty good at doing that as well.

Price: from £21,095 excluding options as tested.

Where will you go?

Vehicle Emissions

Millions of vehicle owners, previous vehicle owners and people who lease vehicles could claim thousands of pounds against car companies in relation to a "cheat device" fitted to their vehicles similar to that of Volkswagen.

Affected vehicles include VW, Mercedes, Renault and Nissan with more being investigated.

Our Director Alisha Butler is involved in the VW Group Litigation as a consultant and she states that: "Owners / previous owners may have claim similar to that of the VW group litigation claimants.

These large manufacturers should not be deceiving the public with these cheat devices. People often buy their cars based on claims made by the manufacturers such as "environmentally friendly" or "Cleanest Diesel Cars Ever" but these vehicles have been shown to have cheat devices which change the results of the emission tests so they show a reduction in emissions when being tested but then revert to higher emissions when back on the road. This is fraudulent and the general public are having the wool pulled over their eyes by companies they trust and we are here to fight their corner"

If you own / did own / lease or did lease an affected vehicle then you could claim and receive thousands in compensation.

Chester Rambling and Hill Walking Club

One step forward, two steps back

Ever optimistic of a return to normality, our summer walking programme is enthusiastically being compiled as I write. Within these pages a host of options will be offered for Sundays, Wednesdays, and Tuesday evenings from April onwards, plus a camping week in June, a weekend camp in September, and a coach trip in October. Wishful thinking maybe, but we fervently hope that this will go ahead, unlike last year's programmes, which were blighted by the pandemic.

Like most organised events, Chester Rambling & Hill Walking Club walks were abandoned for much of 2020, leaving us to do our own thing, staying local, as government directives dictated. The outcome of this was that Club members now know every public right of way in their immediate vicinity like the backs of their hands. This came as an eye opener for many of us, as we usually head further afield, rarely venturing along the lovely footpaths on offer on our own doorsteps.

Then came that happy day in August when travel restrictions were loosened, enabling group walking to resume. Happily blowing the dust off our walking programmes, we accepted that some rules and regulations still had to be abided by. As a result, a robust Covid policy was developed, and A, B and C walks became number-limited, pre-bookable jaunts, with social distancing measures in place. What luxury to be walking with our comrades once more! This joy was short-lived, sadly. The ever-moving dynamics of the Covid restrictions meant those of us living in Flintshire were, for some weeks, barred from leaving the confines of the borough.

Likewise, Cheshire members couldn't cross the border into Wales. This meant that some walks had to be limited to Cheshire folk only, other times just to those of us in Wales. There were a couple of short spells when walks were open to all, but most of the time it really mattered whether your address was east or west of the border.

Things got really interesting when the programme had to be completely thrown to the wind every now and then, with all group walks vetoed for a few weeks at a time. When group hiking was again allowed, depending on what travel restrictions were in place, our beleaguered walks organiser had to adopt an ad hoc approach as to where walks could be offered, whether for Cheshire members only, or just those of us on the Welsh side. Confused? I'm dizzy just writing this!

To make matters worse, the gorgeous warm sunny weather of previous months disappeared during late autumn, but such was our desperation for group walking that when rulings did allow, some of us turned out in the most appalling conditions! One particular B walk near Oswestry sticks in my mind as one of the soggiest I've ever experienced. That was the day I realised that my aging 'waterproof' over trousers were well past their best and my boots had sprung a leak or two.

New waterproof walking gear appeared down the chimney on Christmas morning, and this has seen considerable use during the January monsoons. Some of the woodland and field paths on our favourite lockdown walk, bone dry throughout last summer, have transformed into mudbaths and swamps of unspeakable proportions.

With restrictions on each side of the border changing every few weeks, we don't know whether we are taking one step forward and two steps back, the other way about, or simply going round in circles. Any number of forward steps would be an improvement on last year's situation, but with lockdown continuing in both England and Wales, whichever side of the border you're on, you can't go very far at all, and no-one can do it with you. Clear as mud?

EVERYONE IS WELCOME AT THE RACE FOR LIFE CHESTER

PEOPLE across the region are being encouraged to look beyond Lockdown by making a date to join Cancer Research UK's Race for Life in Chester.

The charity's much-loved events are aiming to return to the city later in the year but with socially distanced measures to help keep participants safe. Anyone who signs up this January can claim a special 30 per cent off the entry fee by using the code JAN2021.

COVID-19 has caused a devastating loss of research funding. Cancer Research UK is predicting a staggering £300 million drop in income over the next three years which could put future medical breakthroughs at risk. That's why the charity is calling on men, women and Children to fight back against the devastating disease by entering a Race for Life event. Money raised will help scientists find new ways to prevent, diagnose and treat cancer, helping to save more lives.

Every year around 42,300 people are diagnosed with cancer in the North West* and one in two people in the UK born after 1960 will get cancer in their lifetime.**

The Race for Life events take place at The Cheshire County Sports Club, Plas Newton Lane, Chester on Sunday, July 18 and are open to people of all ages and abilities.

Caitlin Holme, Cancer Research UK's Event Manager for Chester, said: "All 400 mass-participation Race for Life events across the UK were cancelled last year to protect the country's health during the COVID-19 pandemic. So this year, more than ever, we need people to come together and help beat the disease.

"The truth is, COVID-19 has slowed us down. But we will never stop and we are absolutely determined to continue to create better cancer treatments for tomorrow.

"Every step our scientists take towards beating cancer relies on our supporters. Our Race for Life events are open to all and we're sending a heart-felt message to everyone to come together in 2021. As always at our events, the health and safety of participants, staff and volunteers is our top priority. It may be that events look a little different this year but we are working proactively with our venues and suppliers to deliver a socially distanced but great experience."
